

Desperately	Being almost beyond hope; being reckless
Racket	A loud confusing noise
Absurd	Unreasonable Ridiculous
Stiletto	A slender pointed dagger
Morsel	A small piece of something usually food.

Balmy	Used to describe weather that is mild
Wretched	Very unhappy; causing misery
Hovering	To hang fluttering in the air
Clever (chapter 2. P.12)	Mentally quick; smart
Colossal (Chapter 2. P.15)	Very large; huge in size
Glistening (Chapter 5. P.25)	Shining brightly; reflecting

Huddled (Chapter 10, P.43)	Hidden under; in a group close together.
Pandemonium (Chapter 12, P.58)	Chaos, confusions or wild activities.
Peals (Chapter 17, P.85)	Series of sounds; Sounds that repeat
Spellbound (Chapter 21, P.102)	Totally focused on.
Gallantly (Chapter 25, p.121)	Polite and kind towards women, especially when in public.
Precipice (Chapter 25, p.122)	A dangerous situation that could lead to harm or failure.

Tantrum (Chapter 27, p.134)	a sudden period of uncontrolled anger like a young child's.
Pulpify (P.4)	to make pulp of
Flabbergast (p.9)	to shock or surprise (someone) very much